ABSTRACT

This resource guide divides arts and humanities into six areas listed in separate chapters: dance, film, literature, music, theater, and visual art. A seventh chapter lists historical resources and general cultural resources. Within each of the seven chapters are alphabetically listed resources identified for each intermediate unit. The chapters are followed by a listing and map of intermediate units, and a listing of Pennsylvania colleges and universities offering Pennsylvania Department of Education approved teacher certification programs in the arts and humanities. The guide concludes with lists of Pennsylvania and national arts and humanities organizations. (TRS)

Introduction

Arts and humanities resources listed in this publication have been grouped into chapters consistent with "Arts" and "Humanities" definitions provided in the Chapter Five Curriculum Regulations. Six arts areas are listed in separate chapters. A seventh chapter lists historical resources and general cultural resources. Within each of these seven chapters the reader will find resources identified for each Intermediate Unit listed in alphabetical order. These chapters are followed by a listing and map of Intermediate Units. Next the reader will find a listing of Pennsylvania colleges and universities offering Pennsylvania Department of Education approved teacher certification programs in the arts and humanities. The guide concludes with lists of Pennsylvania and national arts and humanities organizations.

This is the third edition of the resource guide. The first was titled Pennsylvania Community Arts Resources and was published in 1976. The second, entitled Pennsylvania Community Resource Guide in Arts and Humanities, was edited by Christine M. Crist and Jane M. Seller and was published in 1979. Inquiries soliciting revisions and updating of the second edition were made by Joseph B. De Angelis, Arts in Education and Humanities Advisor. Joe McCarthy of the Pennsylvania Alliance for Arts Education, Inc. provided current listings of state and national arts and humanities organizations.

The reader is encouraged to duplicate freely any portions of this guide which might prove useful and to share this information with others.

*Overbrook High School Music Magnet Program: Overbrook High School serves as a magnet school for three specialized college-bound programs: Scholars, Music, and Fine Arts. The Music Program provides academic and music classes in six major subject areas. Courses in theory, harmony, music history, keyboard, band, orchestra, choir, and humanities are offered.
Principal: Ms. Diane Scott
59th and Lancaster Avenue
Philadelphia 19131
*Girard Academic Music Program: Offers a structured learning environment at all grade levels that allows students to follow an academic curriculum while pursuing comprehensive programs in the field of music. In addition to the basic curriculum, students at GAMP receive instruction in the areas of music theory (written and aural) and music history. Performing ensembles include choral groups, full orchestra, string ensemble, marching band and color guard, and stage band. Students have performed in such activities as the Gimbel Thanksgiving Day Parade, Columbus Day Parade, and School Fair held at the Gallery. At least one experience in musical theatre is presented during each school year. However, not all students who enter GAMP need plan on music as a career. The high school years are for students interested in college training in many areas, including liberal arts, sciences, music, etc.
